DECLARE FOR BRYAN.

Senator Teller and Six Associates State Their Reasons In an Address, DENVER, July 21.—Senator Teller and six of his associates who left the national Republican convention, last evening made public an address to the silver Republicans of the country setting forth their views of the situation. The silver Republicans, congressmen and senators, have been in convention at Manitou for several days. In addition to those signing the address Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota and Senator Cannon of Utah are declared to be in sympathy with it, although Senator Cannon was not present at the conference owing to business engagements in Boston. The address in part is as follows:

We deem fitting that we who have heretofore affiliated with the national Republican party and who have rejected the financial plank of the platform adopted at St. Louis and refused to support the pominees of the convention, should state our position in the present campaign and give briefly our reasons in support thereof.

When certain delegates to the national Republican convention repudiated the financial plank of the platform and withdrew from the convention we determined that we would give our support to such candidates as should appear most willing and capable of aiding in the restoration of silver to its rightful place as staneard money.

The Democratic party in its Chicago convention has taken a position in its platform so pronouncedly favorable to silver and has nominated candidates of such unusual unquestionable convictions in favor of the bimetallic policy and of such high personal character that we have determined to give them our suppart. We support such candidates because they represent the great principle of bimetallism, which we believe to be the cause of humanity and civilization and the paramount question now before the American people.

We therefore announce that we shall by voice and vote support Messrs. Bryan and Sewall for president and vice president, and we appeal to all citizens, and especially to Republicans who feel as we do-that gold menon stallism would be of lasting injury to the country-to act with us in securing their election.

CONTESTS FOR SEATS.

Principal Fight Is Over Those of Illinois and Colorado.

St. Louis, July 21.—The national committee of the Populist party met today for the purpose of completing the contests in the convention. Official notice has so far been received for two seats, Colorado and Illinois. It is expected that a contest will be filed for the Cleveland district, but no official information has as yet been received. This contest, if ordered, will involve only one list and is not considered im- on three Texans, John C. Ball, Tom portant. If they do pursue the matter they will have their claims to seats on the ground that the Patterson convention was composed largely of Democrats and that it was not regularly called. The contestants are "Middle of the road" Populists, and the regulars are for Bryan.

SMITH'S COMPROMISE.

A Division of the Electoral Vote With the Democrats Is Recommended.

St. Louis, July 21.-Earl D. Smith of Chicago has been circulating a series of resolutions which have been approved by many individual Populists and which the originator thinks will meet all the differences confronting the party. Attending the resolutions is one recognizing Bryan as a safe leader and a man of high character; but another recites the necessity of maintaining the People's party and it is proposed to select no nominees for vice president and president, then to express a second choice for Bryan and Sewall. A division of the electoral vote in the several states with the Democrats is recommended. If the number of People's party electorial votes is found to be less than that of the Democrats the former's electors are to vote for Bryan and Sewall, but if the People's party has a larger number of electors than the Democrats the latter's "in a spirit of fairness are requested to cast their votes for the nominess of the People's party for vice president and president."

Jones Loyal to the Noninee.

St. Louis, July 21.—Chairman Jones has not been apprised of the proposed compromise. In fact no proposition looking to the substitution of part Populist electors in the various states with a view to the selection of a vice president of Populist faith had been submitted to him, and the Democratic leaders who It can also be stated authoritively that no compromise will be entertained by the Democratic committee. Mr. Jones said he would be as legal to the vice president nominee as to the presidential nominee.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 21,-Miss Etta Robbins, a notorious character who came to this region from Washington county, O., a year ago, is in fail here accused by the verdict of the coroner of the murder yesterday of A. J. Call, his daughter Nettie, aged 25, and also of mortally wounding Lottie Call, a daughter 80 years old, besides severely wounding Ottie Call, aged 11, and Grace Call, aged 13.

The scene was a shantyboat moored six miles above here, of which the victims and the murderess were joint occu-

The facts as related by the murderess are that Call came to her apartment with a double-edged ax and assaulted her murderously, whereupon she took the ax from him and killed him with three blows. Grace Call's story is that she was awakened, sleeping with her father, and saw Mrs. Robbins cutting her father's throat with an ax. He was dead when she got up. Just then Nettie ran in and Mrs. Robbins chopped her to death. Grace then ran out and gave the alarm to the nearest shanty boat and was struck twice with the ax in her flight. Then the infuriated woman struck down Ottle and pursued Lollie, striking her, once before she jumped into the river and throwing the ax and hitting her while she was in the river. Lollie clung to willows and managed to get ashore.

Mrs. Robbins is the heroine of many atrocities, the latest was the dispersing of a baptismal party by flourishing a re-volver and threatening to kill the Call's head was nearly cut off and so was Nettie's. Lollie's right arm is nearly severed at the shoulder. The others are less seriously hurt. A great crowd, wrought up all but to the lynching point, surrounded the jail last night.

Governor Matthews Not Resting In His Fight Against the Evils-Iowa Sheriff After Rev. Scott-Christian Culture Assembly Opens Tonight-Trotting Horse Cremated-Indiana News Notes.

STAR CITY, Ind., July 21.-Jackson Hill, Alum Cave, Farnsworth, Dugger, Hymera, Linton and Shelburn were represented in a meeting of striking miners held to protest against the importation of Illinois labor to take the places of unionists, and a conference was had with the 45 miners who had been shipped here from Taylorsville. The latter claimed that the situation had been misrepresented to them, exhibiting letters which said that men were at work at Star City, and that the operators had no trouble on their hands save with the so-called "farmers." President Knight of the Mine Workers' union explained that it was true that some 800 miners were working in the district at a reduction, but there were 900 miners standing out. The Taylors-ville colony will await the action of the state convention, to be held on Thursday of this week, at Terre Haute, doing no work in the interim.

Annual Session to Be Formally Opened Tonight-Prominent Divines Present.

LAPORTE, Ind., July 21.-The annual meeting of the Pine Lake Christian Culture assembly opened at Pine Lake today and will continue until Aug. 2. The assembly will be formally opened this evening by Ira M. Price of the Chicago University. The response will be made by Dr N. M. Wharton of Baltimore and the inaugural address will be delivered by John H. Chapman of Chicago. The most prominent Indiana clergymen and laymen have been assigned on the programme, together with able outside talent, both denominational and secular Delegates and visitors began to arrive yesterday, and it is expected the attendance will reach into the thousands.

RACETRACK IN TROUBLE.

Governor Matthews Still Insisting Upon the Injunction Against the Tracks.

HAMMOND, Ind., July 21.-Matters are assuming a serious phase for Indiana tracks. The supreme court has remanded the case of the application for an injunction against the tracks, applied for by Governor Claude Matthews some months ago, to the circuit court. The decision was adverse to the interests of the track owners, and the governor, angered by the insistence that the associations will continue to run, having the legal loophole of the 60 days for an application, has applied again to the supreme court to insist that the time limit be waived.

Iowa Sheriff After Rev. Scott.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 21. - A sheriff arrived here yesterday from Waterloo, Ia., and will await a requisition from the governor of Iowa for Rev. G. E. Scott of Waterloo, who is under arrest at Logansport on the charge of abducting 13-year-old Daisy Dolan of Waterloo. The requisition will prob-ably be received by Governor Matthews today. It will be honored. The sheriff will take his prisoner back to Iowa.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

Charles Miller Kills His Wife and Then Commits Suicide.

GALENA, Ind., July 21 .- A horrible double tragedy was enacted near here yesterday. Charles Miller shot and killed his wife with a rifle and, turning the weapon upon himself, committed suicide. Four children were made orphans. The cause of the shooting is unknown, but is supposed to be temporary insanity.

Miller was until a year ago employed in the Louisville and Nashville railroad shops at Louisville, but having purchased a small farm in Greenville township, Floyd county, removed here last summer. Coroner Starr of New Albany was informed of the tragedy and immediately went to the scene and held an inquest. Of the four children the eldest is 16 and the youngest 5.

SERIOUS CHARGE.

Hotelkeeper Accused of Representing Himself as United States Officer.

KANSAS CITY, July 21.-James E. Arthur, a local hotelkeeper, is held for trial by United States Commissioner Thomas on the charge of falsely representing himself to be an officer of the United States treasury department. Arthur is being prosecuted as a member of the gang of swindlers headed by James T. Swartz, alias J. R. Bell, now in jail at Springfield, Mo., with two other men who were arrested with him at Neosho, Mo. Swartz claimed to be in league with officers of the treasury department who fraudulently printed currency on the government presses and issued it to members of a secret society called the American Knights of the Mystic Num-ber. The membership fee was $1,000, which secured for the owner of a certifi-cate thousands of dollars in greenbacks every year.

It is charged that Arthur conspired to sell memberships in the "society."

Democrats believe in partiality; republicans in fairness Democrats chose five out of eight county candidates for office from Greencastle and the other three from two townships. Eleven townships have no representation whatever upon their county ticket. The re-publicans divided as fairly as possible. Eight townships are represented by eight candidates. The offices are distributed and Greencastle gets but one—all she is entitled to. Voter think of this between now and November!

WE fail so far to notice in any of the democratic papers those familiar five words "The tariff is a tax."

Last campaign the democrats howled free trade, to make things cheap, so they said. This campaign they are for free silver to make prices high, so they say. They are clearly contradicting themselves in the space of four years on their free ideas.

tained by the Indiana Supreme court. Is there any more denunciation of law to come from the Ben Bass Accidentially Shot by democratic party?

HENRY WATTERSON calls the platform that was so ably eulogized on Saturday at the court house "monstrous." Mr. Watterson is a democrat, and says the Chicago platan open door to revolution.

If there was the ghost of a show for a democrat in this congressional district the local politicians together with leaders from Terre Haute, Danville, Martinsville, Rockville, Brazil, Newport and other centers would be pulling and hauling for the plum. It is not the disposition of democrats to throw away a chance, however remote, at a $5000 position. Their inactivity and desire to "tender" the nomination is the best evidence that the nomination is nothing but emptizess. Mr. Faris will succeed himself by a handsome majority.

According to his own threat, made in 1895 and this year, and The wound is a painful one but is probably frequently repeated, he would have bolted the nominations made by the Chicago convention if that body had not made a free silver platform.

Why should any democrat vote for a man who admitted four months ago that he was not a democrat? Why should any democrat deem himself bound by considerations of party regularity to vote for a man who has repeatedly proclaimed his intention to bolt if free silver was not a part of the plat form, and who has been nominated on a platform that pulls up democracy's principles by the roots?-New York Sun.

DEMOCRATS are having a hard time in Indiana filling congressional nominations. C. L. Jewett who had a cinch on the nomination in his district threw up the sponge as he could not stomach the Chicago platform and has since preached republican success. In this, the Fifth district, where democrats have usually fallen all over each other in their struggle for the nomination there is no itching to run. No democrat as yet has had the courage to openly come out and ask for the empty honor and it looks register. like it would go begging so far as democracy is concerned. It will probably be tendered on a silver platter when it does go.

M'KINLEY A CHAMPION OF NATIONAL HONOR

He Meets the Threats Contained in the Revolutionary Platform Adopted at Chicago With a Stalwart Declaration of Patrictic American Principles.

On Saturday evening, July 11, just after the Chicago Democrat-Populist convention had concluded its wild career, in an address delivered to the Foraker club of Oleveland, assembled at his home in Canton, Major McKinley said:

"Recent events have imposed upon the patriotic people of this country a responsibility and a duty quite as great as any since the civil war. Then it was a struggle to preserve the government of the United States. Now it is a struggle to preserve the financial honor of the United States. Then it was a contest to save the Union. Now it is a contest to save the spotless credit of that Union. Then section was arrayed against section. Now men of all sections can unite, and will unite, to rebuke the repudiation of obligations and the debasement of our currency.

"In this contest patriotism is above party, and national honor more than any party name. The currency and the credit of the country are good now and must be kept good forever. Our trouble is not with the character of the money we have, but it is with the threat to debase it. We have the same currency that we had in 1892, good the world over and unquestioned by any people. Then, too, we had unexampled credit and prosperity.

"Our difficulty now is to set that money in circulation and invest it in productive enterprises, which furnish employment to American labor. This is impossible with the distrust that hangs over the country at the present time, and every effort to make our dollars, or any one of them, worth less than one hundred cents each only serves to increase that distrust. What we want is a sound policy, financial and industrial, which will give courage and confidence to al, for when that is done the money now unemployed, because of fear for the future and lack of confidence in investment, will appear in the channels of trade.

"Gentlemen, the employment of our idle money—the idle money we already have-in gainful pursuits will put every idle man in the country at work, and when there is work there is wages, and when there is work wage earners are consumers, who constitute the best market for the product of our soil.

"Having destroyed business and confidence by a free trade policy, it is now proposed to make things still worse by entering upon an era of depreciated currency. Not content with the inauguration of a ruinous policy, which has brought down the wages of the laborers and the prices of farm products, its advocates now offer a new policy, which will diminish the value of money in which wages and products are paid. Against both of these we stand opposed. Our creed embraces an honest dollar, an untarnished national credit, advocates revenues for the uses of government, protection to labor, preservation of the home market and a reciprocity which will extend to our foreign markets.

"Upon this platform we stand and submit its declarations to the sober and considerate judgment of the American people."

DEMOCRATIC NEWSPAPERS REPUDI-ATE PLATFORM AND CANDIDATES

Plain and Specific Reasons Given For Their Refusal to Support the Plottings of Revolutionists and Aparchists-Comment From Every Section.

Dictated by Lunacy.

New York World (Dem.) Lunacy having dictated the platform it was perhaps natural that hysteria should evolve the candidate. The nomination of a "boy orator" for the white house at this juncture of the nation's affairs, domestic and foreign, when the ripest experience, the best tested wisdom, the broadest patriotism, and the greatest executive ability are required, comes perilously near taking the one fatal step from the sublime. It is to the future that The World looks in considering the effect of this convention. There is no doubt as to the result of the election except as to the size of McKinley's popular and electoral majorities. To question this is to doubt the intelligence, the underlying honesty and the public morality of the people.

The platform adopted by the Chicago convention is such a declaration of purposes and principles as no consistent Democrat and no lover of the country can conscientiously approve. No man fit to be president or vice president of the United States could in honor stand upon it; and it is therefore quite unnecessary to consider what manner of persons have been presented for the suffrages of the people. Because The Record has been a firm supporter of the Democratic principles, it repudiates. condemns and spits upon this communistic, populistic deliverance. The worst misfortune that could now befall the Democratic party would be the election of a president and a congress pledged to carry into effect the aims of this revolutionary, socialistic scheme of political action

Banner Trailed In the Dust.

Does the great old Democratic party of this country intend to submit quietly to such an outrage? Does the Democratic party intend to submit to have its principles eradicated from the political arena of this country and its banner trailed in the dust after the ear of a Populistic and free silver hero? We do not believe it will. There is life in the old party yet. Its ranks are purified from the valgar socialist from South Carolina, Ben Tillman, as well as from the violent anarchist of Illinois, John P. Altgeld. It stands now purified and united, awaiting the action of its real leaders, David B. Hill of New York and the sound money Democrats of the coun. try. It has a tremendous responsibility upon it.

A Protest From Michigan.

Detroit Free Press (Dem.) Though selected without deliberate regard for the fitness of things, the nominee will find himself very much at home upon the platform. Bland was the original free coinage mover and the really logical candidate. The free silver men cannot complain should gold men in the Democratic party decline to support their platform and candidates. They have done all they could to make it impossible for such men to do so.

CAPTURED COLORS.

CONFEDERATE BATTLEFLAGS IN THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

They Are Kept In an Attic and No One Is Allowed to Examine Them-Some of Them Could Tell Thrilling Stories if They Had the Power of Speech.

The flags taken from the southern troop are now reposing in an attic in the top of the war department, but came first to the care of the government in 1867, when they were deposited in the old war department on Seventeenth street. They were then Dress Cutting E Sewing School on Seventeenth street. They were then about 800 in number, 236 being recaptured Union standards. These flags were obtain ed from the commanding generals of the United States armies and were catalogued and identified whenever it was possible

In 1874 a part of the flags were placed on exhibition in a museum in the Winder building, but in October, 1882, all of the flags were boxed up, and by the direction of the secretary of war they were stored in the basement of the new war department. When it was found, in 1887, that the flags were rapidly decaying, they were taken up into the attic, where they are at present.

The fact that many of the colors originally deposited are not now in the care of the department is easily explained by the fact that flags have from time to time been returned to their owners, applications being sometimes made for them by governors of states or by organizations. Nineteen standards have been returned to Union troops by orders of secretaries of war, among those returned being one sent back by Stan-Prior to May, 1867, there were 21 Confederate flags returned, ten being taken from the war department by Stanton's di rections and nine being taken out by instructions which came from him indirect But since 1887, there have been no flags, Union or Confederate, allowed to pass out of the custody of the war depart-

Some years ago an effort was set on foot by an officer of the war department to re turn all colors to the regiments, north and south, by whom they were originally borne, but several individuals became discontent ed at the suggestion, and nothing ever came of the movement. As a consequence they have been little spoken of since, and are that no one shall be allowed to inspect the flagroom for the purpose of making any publication about its contents, this step being taken to prevent arousing any sectional feeling in regard to the matter. As a consequence no one is permitted to even examine the flags for any such purpose, and the secretary of war refuses permission to have the colors photo-

Of the flags returned to the Union regiments which carried them there are over 20. Pennsylvania having received five for her troops, Massachusetts getting three, Michigan two, New York three, Ohio two, New Jersey two, Illinois two and Vermont No slave driver stands ready today and Connecticut one each.

Of the flags returned at different times by request to southern regiments there are 22, among them being the Union flag which was taken at Newmarket Crossroads by the Pennsylvania troops, the Confederates having used it to deceive the enemy. A great many flags were loaned out every woe and every alarm that has at years ago by officers, and as they were never returned the department is unable to replace them.

Of the flags taken from the southern troops and now in the attic of the war de-partment there are about 250 whose hisory can be obtained, while the number of Union banners recaptured and identified is 62. The room in which they are kept is a narrow, light and dry one, and the colors are standing all about, resting against the walls, some of them furled, while others hang limp about the staff, all of them be ing torn, dusty, ragged and faded and often spotted with blood.

Other standards which have lost their staffs are rolled into bundles and packed away in holes in a cupboard whose doors are off the hinges, and the shabby little packages of dirty bunting remind one of a junkshop, only the realization of what they all mean comes to one so forcibly that it i hard to believe that men once fought like mad to possess the bit of colored rag now lying in a dusty heap. The blues and reds apart, while the tiny bits of stringy bullion still gleam amid the tarnished heap of former glory. The wood used for the staffs is of various kinds, while others are pieces of broken sticks and broken scantling bound together by strings and ropes.

As no allowance has been given the department with which to preserve the flags, they will likely remain in the attic of the department indefinitely. If any move were made to return them to the south, it would awaken the old opposition from many northern soldiers who fought so bravely to capture these very colors. And if it were intended to place them on exhibition in some public museum, most of the southern soldiers would object to their flags being placed on view as trophies of the conquered. So the management of the matter is an exceedingly delicate one-one which the present administration of the department thinks can best be arranged by letting the open to the public, yet will be preserved from decay. the most interesting banners shown is that captured at Antietam from the Stonewall men. The colors of the Nineteenth Mississippi, Mahone's division, from St. Louis to the delightful and General Longstreet's corps, is another relic of value. Others are the flags taken by the Union troops from the Ninth Virginia infantry at Gettysburg, this standard being in the thickest of the fight, where Pickett made his famous charge and General Armstead fell; the banner of the Seventh North Carolina regiment, which was displayed and captured in the same part of the field during the fight at Gettysburg; the flag of the Second Virginia infantry, known as Stonewall's Old Brigade, taken at Winchester by Massachusetts troop the colors of the famous regiment feared for its savage bravery, the Louisiana Ti-gers; a flag taken at Malvern Hill on July 1, 1862, by Pennsylvania volunteers from a North Carolina regiment, the fighting being so desperate that the Confederates piled up around themselves the dead bodies of their fallen comrades and fired from behind this human fort.-Washington Cor. Philadelphia Times.

"A Bare Bodkin."

"Bare" means "mere" as well as 'naked,'' and I cannot doubt that by 'bare bodkin'' Shakespeare meant "mere support him, but it cannot. It is not bodkin," the point of the passage being with how contemptibly small an instrument we could, if we chose, put an end to life and all its bother. "Bare" probably was used instead of "mere" for the sake of effective alliteration. (Cf. with Hamlet's 'bare bodkin." Richard II's "little pin," III, 2, 169.) For "bare" in the sense of 'mere" I need cite only "bare imagina- Times office tion of a feast."-Notes and Queries.
